

Wisconsin Radiological Society (WRS)
Board of Directors – Officer Description

COUNCILOR

The term of office of a councilor shall be three years, or whatever term of office is prescribed in the current Bylaws of the American College of Radiology. He or she may be eligible to succeed himself or herself for one additional term of three years, but shall not be eligible for re-election to additional terms until a lapse of not less than one year; provided, however, that notwithstanding anything in the chapter Bylaws Article VIII Section 3 to the contrary, the terms of any or all of the councilors first elected under Article VIII may be established at less than three years to insure that the terms of one-third of the councilors or a number as near as practical so elected expire each year.

Councilors shall:

- Be a member or fellow of the American College of Radiology.
- Serve as a representative from the chapter in the Council – the legislative body – of the American College of Radiology.
- Serve a term of three year; may be eligible to succeed himself or herself for one additional term of three years, but shall not be eligible for re-election to additional terms until a lapse of not less than one year.
- Attend all meetings of the Society and of the College.
- Familiarize themselves with activities and problems at the local and national levels.
- Act as liaison between the chapter and the College and interpret each to the other; contributing to both groups' ideas, guidance, and advice.
- Stimulate preparation of resolutions of the chapter for presentation to the Council.
- Perform such other duties as are prescribed by the Board of Directors.
- Deliver to new Councilor all materials, and other property of the Society at the close of her/his term.
